THE STORY OF THE PEANUT SHELLS.

As every one knows, C. W. Post of Battle Creek, Michigan, is not only a maker of breakfast foods, but he is a strong individualist who believes that the trades unions are a menace to the liberty of the country.

Believing this, and being a "natural-born" scrapper for the right, as he is called, Post, for several years past, has been engaged in a ceaseless warfare against "the Labor Trust," as he likes to call it.

Not being able to secure free and untrammelled expression of his opinions on this subject through the regular reading pages of the newspapers, he has bought advertising space for this purpose, just as he is accustomed to for the telling of his Postum "story," and has thus spent hundreds of thousands of dollars in denouncing trades unionism.

As a result of Post's activities the people now know a whole lot about these organizations; how they are honeycombed with graft, how they obstruct the development of legitimate business, curtail labor's output, hold up manufacturers, graft upon their own membership, and rob the public. Naturally Post is hated by the trades unionists, and intensely.

He employs no union labor, so they can not call out his men, and he defies their efforts at boycotting his products. The latest means of "getting" Post is the widespread publication of the story that a car which was recently wrecked in transmission was found to be loaded with empty peanut shells, which were being shipped from the south to Post's establishment at Battle Creek.

This canard probably originated with president John Fitzgerald of the Chicago Federation of Labor, who, it is said, stated it publicly, as truth.

Post comes back and gives Fitzgerald the lie direct. He denounces Fitzgerald's statement as a deliberate falsehood, an underhanded and cowardly attempt to injure his business, having not the slightest basis in fact. As such an effort it must be regarded. It is significant that this statement about "the peanut shells" is being given wide newspaper publicity. In the "patent" paper of an eastern country paper I find it, and the inference naturally is that labor unionists are insidiously spreading this lie.

An institution (or a man) which will resort to moral intimidation and to physical force, that will destroy machinery and burn buildings, that will murder and kill if necessary to effect its ends, naturally would not hesitate to spread falsehood for the same purposes.

NOT RAISING EGGS
INSTEAD OF NUGGETSMining Company Has Not Gone Out of Business to Raise Chickens.

Morenci, Ariz., Feb. 12, 1910.

Editor El Paso Herald:
In The El Paso Herald of February 11, under date of Clifton, Ariz., February 10, appears the following:
"The New York-Arizona Gold and Copper company has discontinued active operations on its claims west of Morenci and is investing large capital in chickens. Eggs at Morenci are 60 cents a dozen and the company's better eggs devote more attention to chickens than to the mines, as it has plenty of range space."

Were this April 1, the above might be passed over as an effort on the part of your Clifton correspondent to make a sorry joke.

The New York-Arizona has not ceased active mining operations, but on the contrary has lately increased the working force, and also has plans well advanced for the early installation of reduction works.

Very truly yours,
The New York-Arizona Gold and Copper company.

T. W. Wester, Secretary.

MIAMI PUTS IN PLANT TO PUMP WATER TO CONCENTRATOR.

Globe, Ariz., Feb. 14.—The big pumping plant of the Miami Copper company will be installed on the McElaine about four and one-half miles east of the company property. The original plans contemplated the installation to handle the Old Dominion mine water on the Stead ranch, but the newer project was found to be feasible. The Miami company has requested the superintendent of the Arizona & Eastern to build a siding to the McElaine ranch so pipe and machinery can be hauled there at once. The water from the Old Dominion mine, which has been contracted for by the Miami company for use at its big concentrator, directed by gravity flow to the McElaine ranch. The plant there will force it through pipes to the concentrator.

That Postal Deficit

Postmaster-General Hitchcock reports that the Post-Office Department loses $64,000,000 a year in the business of carrying second-class mail (magazines and periodicals).

There is not a deficit of $17,000,000, as the department alleges, but actually a surplus of more than $10,000,000, when the specific loss on free rural delivery is taken into consideration, and the department's figures of $64,000,000 loss on second-class matter are wrong by more than $60,000,000.

THE SATURDAY

for February 12th devotes its editorial page to this subject, showing the injustice of the recommendation to raise the rate on all magazines and periodicals—but not on daily papers or the country weeklies.

One fact: In the year ended June 30th, 1908, the weight of second-class matter compared to 1907 decreased 18,000,000 pounds. The postal expenditures increased $18,000,000. There is something in it besides second-class matter.

Look for a dozen more facts in this week's (date of February 12th) number of THE SATURDAY EVENING POST.

HOTEL LANDLORD
COVERS TWO MEN
WITH GUNBurglar Alarm Sounds at Alberta Hotel—Strangers
Are Arrested.

"Come quick, we've got a couple of crooks."

When this message reached the police station by telephone it was all over at the Alberta hotel. The fifth attempt within two weeks to ransack that hostelry, located at San Francisco and Santa Fe streets, resulted—but that is the story.

Two young men were discovered in the room of B. Tom Smith, veteran railroad worker who runs the Alberta. This was about two weeks ago, and the man escaped the clutches of the householders. Three times since they have reappeared, Smith says, one ransacking a roomer's possessions and escaping with a watch and a loaded pocketbook.

About 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning, Mr. Smith heard his burglar alarm ring, one he had placed at the front door which is left unlocked. He saw two young men enter, but he did not call the police or raise any other form of disturbance.

Instead for 20 long minutes—minutes which seemed hours—he watched the early morning visitors steal up the stairs.

Covered With Gun.

Soon they stood opposite a room and from the room came loud snores, and snoring mean sleep. One knelt down and started to work on the lock. Then the landlord acted.

With his new automatic shotgun he covered the visitors. But one of the youths drew a revolver from his pocket. There was noise and roomers came to the rescue. There was a fight too, and Mr. Smith landed each stranger on the head with his new shot gun.

When assistant chief of police Ten Eyck arrived, there was great excitement at the Alberta hotel. Many men and women in night drapery told about it and led the way up the Alberta stairs.

There crouched the two youthful visitors under the range of a shot gun in the hands of Mr. Smith and a full sized revolver in the smaller hand of Mrs. Smith. The Smiths were victors, and the two young men were taken away, their heads bleeding from the shotgun cartridges.

When searched at the police station the pockets of one young man contained a strange implement with a saw edge. Only one had been armed. Giving their names as Harry Eahn and S. R. Baughman, the roughly handled visitors at the Alberta were locked up for the night.

Residence Burglarized.

The residence of Edward Colford, 706 Montana street, was visited by burglars before midnight Saturday while the family was absent. A watch and $4 in cash are reported missing. The entire house was ransacked. Entrance was gained by breaking a glass and raising the sash.

Loose Pair of Trousers.

A burglar found his way into the home of G. A. Lambeth, at 512 Mesa avenue, and got away with a pair of trousers.

Several young men, who had been out for the evening, were passing the house when a man ran up to them, a pair of trousers on his arm and said: "There is a burglar in that house. I am one of the roomers there; he got into my room and I am going for the police." He ran fast and was around the corner and out of sight before they realized that they had been tricked by a second story worker.

Lambeth came rushing out with a six shooter in his hand, but could find no one and went back to hunt through the house for more burglars.

Poseur Robbed Again.

Was it a female burglar that broke into Poseur's millinery store last night? It may well have been. Four boxes of willow plumes—the joy and delight of the feminine fashion folks—are missing, netting a loss of about $600.

This morning when the store, located at 4 Little Plaza, was opened, it was found that a glass had been broken on the rear door, a bolt lifted, and a lock sprung.

Two More Burglaries.

Burglars recently made a haul from the office of Dr. J. B. Brady, dentist, and Max Hezener, manufacturing jeweler, in the Wells-Fargo building. Entrance was gained to the office of Dr. Brady over the transom and over $100 worth of gold stolen. From Hezener the burglars secured about $185 worth of stones, jewelry and tools.
